Local hoop teams have all-stars

Published Thursday, October 19, 2006

By Staff

Select basketball teams throughout the metroplex got to showcase their skills in front of college coaches last weekend in the PrimeTime Sports NCAA exposure tournament in Denton.

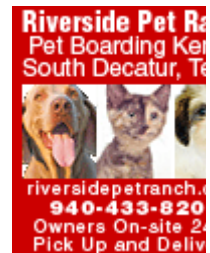

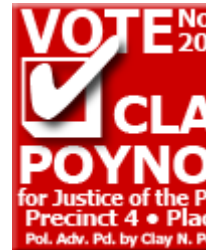

Two area teams had players receive special honors for their efforts. Junior Denesha Henderson of the Texas Stars and senior Jennifer Fath of the DFW Lady Lakers were named to the 10-person All-Tournament team.

Henderson has been with the Texas Stars for the last three years and also helped lead the Boyd High School to the regional tournament last spring. Fath is a four-year member of the DFW Lady Lakers and is one of the top recruits in Texas.

This event was PrimeTime Sports' first Girls Showcase tournament for college coaches. The showcase featured 9th/10th, 11th/12th, and high school team divisions. The tournament was also a NCAA sanctioned event.

The All-Tournament team also included; Marissa Ashton of the Texas Lady Allstars, sophomore, La Marque; Audriana Garcia of the Texas Lady Allstars, junior, Baytown; Hayley Fields of the Princeton Lady Panthers, junior, Princeton; Mallory Singleton of the Flower Mound Lady Jags, freshman, Flower Mound; Candace Brown of the Flower Mound Lady Jags, junior, Flower Mound; Cassi Wright of the Abilene Select, junior, Abilene; Ebony Roland of the Dsportz Dynamite, senior, Dallas; and Micah Garoutte of the M.P.B.S. Red, senior, Plano.
